Mission

The Southern New Jersey Regional Early Intervention Collaborative (SNJREIC) enables families to meet the requirement of their young children with special needs by forging and fostering partnerships among community members whereby service strategies are individualized and family driven.

We value your experience

As a parent of a child who received early intervention services, you already know what others are going through. The board benefits from your expertise!

- Been there, done that input
- Insightful ideas
- Unrelenting inspiration!

About the board

The SNJREIC Board of Trustees is made up of parents whose children went through early intervention and community members who want to support families in early intervention.

What we need from you

A passion for helping children.

You'll weigh in on important decisions affecting early intervention and the families receiving services.

The ability to attend board meetings.

The board holds in-person meetings six times per year at the SNJREIC offices. Travel and childcare reimbursements are available.

A willingness to commit to a two-year term.

The more you learn about the board, the more valuable your contributions.

Completion of a Board of Trustees Nomination and Questionnaire Form.

This helps us find your fit on the board.

From one of our volunteers

Having two children with developmental delays was incredibly overwhelming. I didn't know where to start sometimes. Between running to doctor appointments and managing medical bills and insurance, I looked forward to early intervention time as something that I could participate in and could teach me how to help my kids reach their milestones. After my kids graduated from early intervention, I jumped at the opportunity to give back to families who were walking the same path I had walked with my children. Volunteering on the board has been so rewarding and allows me to be involved in advancing the system that helped my family so profoundly. I've also made some wonderful friends with people who care about kids and the community as much as I do. It's been an honor!
